

Would you like to join our Patient and Carer Network and make a difference to cancer services?

UCLH Cancer Collaborative has launched a Patient and Carer Network for people with recent experience of cancer treatment in north central and east London, and west Essex.

Joining our Patient and Carer Network means you will hear about a range of opportunities for people with different skills, interests, and a varying amount of time to offer.

You must be committed to working collaboratively and broadly representing the diverse views and needs of people affected by cancer. Participation in other cancer networks and links to community groups is considered really helpful.

Opportunities for Network members include:

- Joining our UCLH Cancer Collaborative Patient Experience & User Involvement Steering Group
- Joining a Pathway Board or Expert Reference Group
- Joining a time-bound project group
- Participating in one-off discussion workshops or focus groups
- Giving feedback remotely, by email, for example in surveys or on patient information materials, publicity documents
- Speaking to community groups and raising awareness of cancer as part of our early diagnosis work.
