

This video has been produced for nursing and allied healthcare professional staff, to show the sort of concerns that carers may have. In just a few short minutes, we see how as professionals we can make a difference by recognising and responding to these concerns, and signposting to relevant psychosocial support services.

August 2015

Watch the video on YouTube