Nurses Past & Present

Are you able to lend a hand during the COVID-19 pandemic?

If you are able to join us in a substantive or temporary role and fall into one of the following categories, please make the necessary contact as outlined:

Group	Your current situation	Your options to join UCLH	Notes & Actions
1	I hold a current NMC PIN with no restrictions on practice	You can join UCLH as a registered nurse on a temporary basis (bank) or on a substantive contract	For substantive post enquires: n.holbery@nhs.net  For temporary (bank) post enquiries: joinuclhbank@bankpartners.co.uk
2	I do not hold a current NMC PIN, but left the register less than 3 years ago	Initially you will need to register your interest in joining the potential temporary COVID-19 NMC register Further information about this option can be found here: https://www.nmc.org.uk/news.coronavirus/temporary-registration  Once on the register you have the option to join UCLH on a substantive contract or work as a bank nurse on a temporary basis	Please register your interest in joining the potential temporary COVID-19 NMC register by following this link: https://r1.dotdigital-pages.com/p/129A-FXN/emergency-register-opt-in-start-process
3	I do not hold a current NMC PIN and I left the register MORE than 3 years ago	Currently the NMC is not in a position to accept you on to the temporary register, however, your skills are of great value to us and you have the option to join us as a health care assistant on a substantive contract or on a temporary basis	joinuclhbank@bankpartners.co.uk
